NO. 14

No Pensions Until August.

No pensions will be paid to Confederate soldiers or widows of soldiers until August. Under the law granting pensions to the old soldiers their claims for pensions must be passed on by the County Court of the county in which the applicant lives and then must be approved by the pension board at Frankfort. This board is composed of the Governor, the Auditor and the Secretary of State. The application blanks, which must be filled out by the applicants for pensions, have been sent out by Commissioner Stone. Claims will be paid after this year in February, May, August and November.

That Pullman Car.

In speaking of the farm train which visited Winchester in common with other cities of Central and Western Kentucky, but failed to tour the towns along the L. & E. and L. & A. the Winchester Democrat says:

"One department of the 'Farm Special' was not opened to the farmer, although he was 'footing the bill'. It was the luxurious Pullman quarters of the State College Professors, with the train and their assistants, and the dining car, with tables filled with choicest the market affords."

For the first time since reconstruction days, Tennessee may have a Republican Senator until next January, appointment of a successor to Senator Taylor, deceased, resting with Governor Hooper.

If the rains continue the rest of the year in proportion to the way they have been falling, this year will go down in history as the year of tides. It averages about one tide a week.

Destructive Flood on the Mississippi.

The western end of the Hickman levee gave way at 9:30 o'clock Monday night. There was no loss of life, but great property damage resulted. A crisis is near at Cairo, and laborers to work on levees are being impressed. At Columbus, Ky., there is a steamboat tide in the street. A bill appropriating $350,000 for the relief of flood sufferers is being pressed in both branches of Congress. Tents have been ordered sent to Hickman and Columbus from Frankfort and Washington. The Mississippi at these places is two feet higher than ever before recorded.

Well, We Got Our Seed.

Our Congressman J. C. Cantrell is supplying his constituency in this county with a supply of garden seeds. They have come just in time, by the wet weather holding the early gardeners back, otherwise the early varieties of seed would have been too late.

Elder J. I. Wills, of Beattyville, preached at Powell's Valley Baptist church Saturday night and Sunday morning and Elder P. N. Taylor, of Madison county, preached on Sunday night.

D. R. Daniel bought and shipped yesterday a car load of hogs at from 4 to 6 cents per pound. He also bought a car load at Bowen and shipped them.

The Powell Fiscal Court will be in session at Stanton beginning next Tuesday.

George Fletcher is in Winchester on business.

Special Sale Day.

On Saturday, April 6th, for cash, or country produce which we take in exchange for goods, we will sell roasted coffee at 19½ cents per pound and coal oil at 10 cents per gallon.

Corn Growing in Kentucky.

According to the census, which takes the crop of 1909 as the basis, Kentucky planted corn in 3,436,340 acres and secured a yield of 24.3 bushels of corn.

Average yield are always misleading. It takes the good and the bad together. If the average is 24.3, doubtless there are many farmers where, with proper care, 35 and 40 bushels to the acre where made.

Twenty-five bushels to an acre is not a profitable crop in Kentucky, say what we will. It gives for all of your labor and for the rent of the land about $12.15.

Do not be content with 25 bushels of corn. If you cannot do better than this something is wrong—first, with your soil; second, with your culture; third with your seed, and, fourth, with yourself.

Now change all this. You can change your soil by proper culture, by proper fertilizing. You ought to get better seed than you used last year, and you ought to be able to tell good seed from bad by tests of your own.

Do not put off better farming until next year. Apply it every day. Confer with your neighbors and see what they have done to benefit themselves and their farms. See how far experience is applicable to your condition.

Get your farmers together in a club and study the problems that affect your locality. Put them up to the agricultural stations and see what assistance those public officials can give you.

Be moved by a godly discontent. However well you did last year, be not satisfied with doing as well this year. Do better.

Your redemption from poverty will be primarily through your own activity, industry and intelligence. Your beasts of burden learn through experience how to save their strength, how to do their work the next time with less strain than this. We say they get into the habit of doing it better if they are helped.

You ought to get into the habit of doing your work better every year. If you go on doing the same things over and over, coming out of the same little hole at the end of each harvest, a little poorer than you entered it, know that the trouble is with you and not with your farm.—Home and Farm.

Preached Here Sunday Night.

The Rev. W. P. Fryman, of West Liberty, visited his brother, the Rev. L. S. Fryman, and preached at the Methodist church Sunday night. Bro. Fryman says he is well pleased with his new charge.

The L. & E. has put in a telephone system for the handling of their business in addition to the telegraph lines now in operation. Heavy copper wires are used in the construction of the line.

We call attention to the announcement of Hardwick & Co. leading merchants of Stanton. It will pay you to inspect their stock before making your purchases.

Only a Square Deal.

How much of the money which is sent away to catalogue houses ever returns to the community from which it is sent? How much of the money spent with the home merchant goes to build up other places? Who helps pay the taxes, build roads and bridges, erect churches and schools, fosters and encourages public improvements, buys farm produce, carries names of the needy on the debit side of the books the year around and is willing and eager at all times to assist them by credit or money, if they may need it? Is it the catalogue house or the local merchant? The local merchant. Then why not give him the opportunity to figure on that "cash order," perhaps you are about to buy? He can fill it, freight included, as cheaply, and in some instances much less, than the catalogue fellows will charge. Stand up for home trade. Dollars sent away for goods never return, but help build up the large cities and big catalogue houses which are not only trying to squeeze the life out of the country towns, but are selling goods not one cent cheaper than local dealers from whom the people expect credit whenever they may need it.

Wool Bill Passes.

The Democratic wool bill has passed the House by a vote of 169 to 108, twenty Republicans voting with the Democrats. Supporters of the bill say it will not reduce the revenue any owing to a better readjustment of the rates, but that it will save the consumers more than $50,000,000 yearly.

Prepare to Work Roads.

A few pretty days visit us each week. These should be taken advantage of by the farmers so later when possible the roads should be put in order while it is yet early in the season. Work done on roads in April, May or June is worth double what the same work is worth when done in August, September or October, and besides we get the use of the roads during the summer months. Our roads must not be neglected as they were last year. It is a shame that the people of Powell county will neglect to enforce what system of road making they have at their command, as insignificant as it may seem to be. The less labor we have at our command, to the very best advantage we should never fail to use it.

Instead of taxing sugar nearly two cents a pound, place a tax on wealth!

The Democratic House of Representatives has announced this as a part of its program to bring about a reduction in the cost of living.

Now get ready for the old cry: "You can't do it; it's unconstitutional!" Whenever it is proposed to tax wealth instead of poverty, wealth raises the question of constitutionality, accompanied with the charge of "radicalism." The income tax is not radical. Every first class nation on the earth—except the United States—raises a part of its revenue to meet the expenses of government by taxing incomes, among such nations being France, Great Britain, Germany, Japan, Austria, Switzerland, Holland, Australia, New Zealand and many more.

Under our present fiscal policy the expense of maintaining the army and navy, building public buildings and the general running expenses of the government, is met by taxing the things that the common people must have to live. The Democrats have planned to change the burden of taxation onto the shoulders of those more able to bear it. This displeases the moneyed kings, but in it the common people have cause to rejoice.

The Powell Fiscal Court has a record of precaution in allowing injudicious claims, and many of the boys are each term now turned down. The court has the thanks of the people of the county for what they have saved the county since the present members have come into office. But still even greater retrenchments must be made if we hope in the future to have better roads. Our tax rate is now to the limit, and if a saving is not made, there is no show for any material improvement of our roads until the law gives us State aid or the county votes a bond issue. Yet if the Fiscal Court can lay up a few hundred dollars and say to the citizens of the county, that the court will appropriate money for one-half the cost of a few miles of turnpike if the citizens along any special road will raise the other one-half. This would give the citizens that want to do something, but feel that they cannot afford to do it all, an opportunity to improve their road. We believe a plan similar to the one suggested can be perfected in a few years to come if the court will put that object in view and systematically work to that end as the Court is capable and apparently willing and anxious to do.

Senator Bradley engaged in a colloquy with Senator Williams, of Mississippi, while arguing on the Smoot pension bill, and in his remarks brought up the Confederate pension bill which had passed the Kentucky Legislature. Senator Bradley demonstrated one thing, that he reads of matters pertaining to Kentucky in the brief, because when asked how much pension was provided for the old soldiers in the Kentucky bill he could not answer but did say he did not know. Congressman Langley was better posted on Kentucky affairs and informed the Senator that it was $10.00 per month. Senator Bradley was one of the few Kentuckians but what did know, and it is safe to say that of all the others who did not know none of them will be Senator from Kentucky. They are not of that class.

W. J. Bryan is a candidate for one of the Nebraska State-at-large delegates to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore, but says if Judson Harmon gets the instructions of Nebraska, he will resign before he will go to the convention and vote for him.

Such honesty is a rarity. Bryan is unquestionably one of the best informed, fore-seeing, ablest free-thinking citizens in the United States today. He is by far the best material for President in either party, though he has no show to ever become President. The writer had rather vote for him than any other man in the United States, and it is not because—with one exception—he is the only man we ever voted for for President either.

We can't help but wonder how this county got along before we had the bridges that now span the river. So many tides as we have had this year without bridges in Powell county would paralyze traffic in nearly all parts of the county. When we get those pikes we will then look back to the present time and say, "How did we used to get along with those old mud roads?" What are you doing to bring about an improvement of our roads this Spring? Better get busy and start the ball. It will roll easily if we can ever once get it started.

There is nobody better pleased with the redistricting of the Congressional boundaries than John W. Langley. The talk about his retiring from Congress that was had last fall when the old Tenth went into the Democratic column by a majority of one thousand votes, is now changed and John has announced for another term. He may not find such smooth sailing in the new Tenth as they know any Republican can carry that district now.

Now is the last opportunity of the season to set out trees, but they may yet be transplanted with safety. We know that every farmer of Powell could find a place to plant more fruit trees and that in a few years to come these trees will be a source of much pleasure and profit. We again urge all of our readers who own a piece of land, however small, to sit down and send to one of the nurserymen advertising in these columns and send them an order for some fruit trees. Don't delay a day, as one day may be too late, but sit down and write today. If you want us to, come to our office and we will make out your order for you. At any rate plant more fruit and do it yet this spring.

Governor McCreary has now been Governor four months and every day he has been in Frankfort and attended to the duties of the office to which he was elected by the people. How different it was with Governor Willson. He was away about half his time wineing and dining with big men and in many instances with trust magnates. Governor McCreary is proving himself to be a Governor for the people as well as of the people.

The placing of sugar on the free list by the Democratic Congress, will cheapen sugar two cents a pound and in the aggregate will be a saving of $107,000,000 in taxation from the breakfast table of the American people.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.
(BY CLYDE H. TAVENNER.)

Should a fiscal system which permits those who own 90 per cent. of the wealth of the United States to shoulder but 10 per cent. of the burden of taxation, be remedied?

The Democratic House believes that it should, and hence the passage of the excise-income tax bill which levies a tax of 1 per cent. on incomes in excess of $5,000 a year.

This does not mean that all persons having more than $5,000 must pay a tax on the excess of that sum. It means that those who have an annual "income" or "profit" of more than $5,000 must pay the 1 per cent. tax on all income or profit exceeding $5,000. It will be necessary in most cases for a person to have a capitalized sum of about $100,000 before he is called upon to pay 1 per cent. tax on that portion in excess of $5,000.

The standpatters, however, say this plan is class legislation. They were never heard to complain of the present system of raising revenue to run the government as being class legislation, although it is even more class legislation than that proposed under the excise-income tax bill. Under the present system the burden falls entirely upon the masses, wealth alone being the one thing untaxed for federal revenue.

The masses of the people produce the wealth, and by legislative advantage a few get possession of it, and now these few object to the transfer of the tax from but one article of general consumption—sugar—to wealth. They would prefer that the government continue to tax sugar instead of wealth, because they eat no more sugar than the section hand or the mill worker and therefore under the present system are compelled to pay no greater tax to the government than the poorest man.

The United States is practically the only one of the great nations today that raises practically all its revenue by taxing the people according to their needs and practically according to their poverty, and allows wealth to go untaxed.

The government now raises $314,000,000 annually by placing an import duty or tariff on the things the people eat, wear or use. Banks, railroads and steamship lines pay nothing because they do not come in through the customs houses. Mr. Rockefeller pays no more taxes than the average citizen because he uses no more of the things the people must have in order to live than does the average man.

If a system which requires a millionaire to pay no more tax to the federal government than the section hand or the mill hand is fair and just, there is no need of reform; but if such a system is unjust the excise income tax bill is a move in the right direction to remedy it.

The wholesale price of standard granulated sugar in New York on the day this item is written is $5.85 per hundred pounds. One week ago today the price was $5.75, one month ago today $5.45 and one year ago today $4.60. These figures are taken from the Weekly Statistical Sugar Trade Journal, the official publication of the sugar industry of the United States.

Whether the sugar trust finds it necessary to increase prices to reimburse itself for the stolen mill on it was forced to disgorge to the government, following the exposure of the underweighing frauds, or whether the increases are really justified by shortage of sugar production abroad, is considered a debatable question by many. But the fact that the wholesale price of sugar in London averages 2 cents a pound less than in New York the year around, shows beyond question the advantage in favor of the consumers in the country where there is neither a sugar tariff nor a sugar trust.

We have published these prescriptions before, but so many have asked for them that the supply of extra copies of the paper has been exhausted. Please keep them, brethren. Copy them off so that you will be able to let your friends have copies, and those friends will bless you.

The first is for rheumatism. It was given by the great specialist in rheumatism in New York City. There are really three—some doctors say five—distinct diseases which are called rheumatism, and it is probable Moriarty is the only man who can distinguish them. All cases of the disease for which he gives this prescription, it will cure. And it will do no harm to the other two diseases.

Rheumatic Cure—Salicylic acid, 2 drams; oil of gaultheria, 2 drams, in lanolin sufficient to make two ounces. To be rubbed in thoroughly at night, for one month.

All who have tried this have been cured in a week. But the great specialist ordered its use for one month.

The second prescription is for asthma. It is the old famous German Swartz prescription, with iodide of strontium substituted for iodide of potash. This latter is so hard on stomachs that but few could use the original Swartz cure.

Asthma Cure—Rad Senegae, 4 Drams; Iodide of Strontium, 4 drams; Sem Helianthus niger, 4 drams, in spirits of juniper sufficient to make one pint.

The dose is two teaspoonfuls every two hours till relieved, and then two teaspoonfuls before each meal for one week.

This must be put up by first-class druggists. The Sunflower seed must be the black ones or it will do little good. A leading druggist in this city said it requires a week's time to compound it properly.—Western Recorder.

Substantial men of high character with influence and large acquaintance in their locality wanted in all parts of Ohio, Kentucky and southern Indiana to personally introduce our traveling advertising representative.
